1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 13,14,24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims use the recitation "without integrated non volatile memory" which is a negative limitation.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Culp et al (6017354) as cited by applicant in view of Hertzmann.

Culp et al discloses surgical tool system comprising first hand instrument, a control console connected to first hand instrument, console including memory device and instructions for controlling hand instruments, see fig 1 and abstract. Culp et al lacks disclosing first signature discrete circuit element is detected for identifying first hand instrument. Hertzmann discloses first signature discrete circuit element is detected by console for identifying first hand instrument, see col 2 lines 1-13, col 6 lines 27-36, col 6 lines 37-55 and col 7 lines 1-7. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the surgical tool system of Culp et al with signature discrete circuit element of Hertzmann for improved control.
